

Museum Hürtgenwald 1944 and at peace

We are pleased about your interest in our documentation exhibition in Hürtgenwald-Vossenack.

As a reminder and reminder, documents, photos and military exhibits as material witnesses found throughout the world after World War II in the Hürtgenwald are reported in this exhibition "The Battle of the Souls of the Year 1944 and their Consequences" about the unhappy phase of the Hürtgenwald history.

This battle took away thousands of young people's future; they destroyed villages, the land, the forests; it caused suffering and harm to the population.

The museum is regularly open every 1st Sunday of the month. Individual tours are only by prior arrangement. The approximate conditions are Lump sum for individual opening approx. € 25, - plus entrance fee of approx. € 5, - per adult and approx. € 3, - for children over 14 years. The current entrance fees and admission regulations of the Hürtgenwald Museum apply.
